

Librarian's Report
November 2020

We extended our Grab & Go and Curbside hours to 9:30am-5:30pm. The number of people coming into the library for Grab & Go fluctuates daily between 60 and 120.

Programming:

Kids:

- Katherine is taking a short break from programming because of the weather and the holidays. She will be doing to-go crafts through December and January.

Teens:

- The teens did Ugstastic Crafting on their day off Nov 6th. The goal was to create the ugliest craft.
- Katie will continue to use ReadSquared to have the teens participate in a Fall Reading Challenge. It looks a lot like the summer program only scaled back.
- Anime will be meeting in person in the Cooper Rooms.
- Katie is offering monthly Take and Make crafts for Teens.
- For the in-person programs, teens are socially distancing, wearing a mask, and taking the snacks home with them instead of eating them at the library.

Adults:

- For Native American Heritage Month, each Monday we are featuring SD Humanities council speakers over Zoom.
- On November 19th Mikaela and Nita will be doing a Winter Book Preview over Zoom.
- Nancy is hosting a Clay Creation Competition. Registration begins November 9th. For all ages.

Other:

- Update on the Incremental Re-open Plan.
