6. Community Gardens Promotion

Craig Pahl SDSU master gardener Special speaker, involved in Friends of Community Garden (in existence x1 year - Facebook page)

6 years master gardener; passion in growing food

2% of US population involved in food source - importance of mental health and food source

Open house at Community Garden on Father's day weekend Saturday and Sunday afternoons; Craig asks for promoting help for this event. So far he has been talking to people who have a plot which is how they advertised for last year's inaugural event.

Special plots at community garden: 3 sisters plots, non-chemistry/weed abatement, vegetables in raised beds, straw, Dutch white clover between rows for weed abatement

Ideas for promotion: Consider funding article (Free)/ads (would require funds) in Brookings Register; potential for contact with Lutheran Social Services to help promote with low income individuals; Friends of Community Garden group is giving away apple trees at end of the month - could pass out fliers with apple trees to 1st and 2nd graders

Talk to school district to promote with kids - get them excited about it/do school trip.

Idea for expanding community gardens in more accessibility and areas throughout the city. Robin notes that she has been looking into this possibility and potential to establish plots with parks department City website option for promotion
Craig will send a promotional blurb on to Robin to be able to send on to promote with city site and others
